Elmbrook Rotary Club Marches Into 26th Year!

“Look, Crissy, here comes the next group. It’s the Elmbrook Rotary Club. See their big banner? Get some of that candy and one of those cards, will you please, Crissy. Hmmm, Spikes for Tykes. It’s been around 21 years and benefits kids’ charities and scholarships. Elmbrook Rotary must have been around for quite some time. It sounds like they are doing good things, and they certainly are an energetic bunch. I think I’ll check out their website.”

Yes, the Elmbrook Rotary Club is confidently marching into its second quarter century! ERC has a strong nucleus of charter members (14 of its 73 members have been Rotarians for 25 years). Leadership of committees and events is shared by new members and long-term members. The club’s first website is on the near horizon, its major fundraiser has been rejuvenated, it is looking to broaden its international charitable activities, and it is expanding its local hands-on service projects. All of this is in addition to an already significant list of service projects and charitable donations. Best of luck in the next 25 years!

Spikes is Over the Top

This year's Spikes fund-raising effort will gross just over $41,000 as soon as a few more pledges are received. About 84% of Club members participated in the fund-raiser. Expenses are not finalized yet, but net profits should be adequate to fund giving levels next year at least comparable to this year's. Activities remaining for Spikes include Ralph Gould (head chef) and Tom Curl (sous chef) throwing an August thank-you cookout for the winning Spikes club team & guests. Additionally, a thank you breakfast for Spikes sponsors at the $500 level and above will be held at a Club meeting in early October. This year's successful Spikes campaign is due mostly to an extremely talented and hard-working group of Rotarians including Debbie Lindner, Wally Smanski, Sue Cerletty, Mark Thurner, John Dahms, John Allen, Bonnie Bertram, Gordy Miller and Patrick Drinan.

Spikes is primarily about youth. Here is the team of the Waukesha North HS Interact Club.

Tom Curl & Ralph Gould will continue as Spikes 2009 co-chairs.

We love it when a new member gets involved, as did Kevin Roche. (Ron Jones at right.)

Tom Curl and I were very fortunate to have had such a committed, hard-charging group with whom to work.

Ralph Gould

[Editor's note: Preliminary net profit is approximately $37,000. PLUS, the Silent Auction proceeds exceeded $3600. !!] ERN

Spikes donors were thanked in a full-page ad in the Brookfield-EG NOW section of the Journal Sentinel.

ERC "Wins" Trophy

The usual adjective coupled with "trophy" is "coveted", however, in the annual Spikes volleyball grudge match between Elmbrook Rotary Club and the Wauwatosa-Mayfair club, the proper adjective is "spurned". Yes, once again, ERC took home the Second Place Trophy. (For those unfamiliar with this annual contest, there is no first-place trophy.)

Many of us Elmbrook Rotarians do makeups at the Wauwatosa-Mayfair club, so we are fairly familiar with their faces. All but two of the faces of the WMRC volleyball team, however, were unfamiliar to us. Could all of their last names be Ringer?

ERN

ERC vs WMRC: "Good game. Good game".

Site Within Sight

Elmbrook Rotary's first Internet website will be "going live" in late July or early August. Details will be presented to members at a regular meeting. There will be a public side of the site with useful information for the general public and members and a member-only side which will help facilitate club business. Features will be phased in over time. ERN

I was born and spent my early childhood in a suburb of Cleveland, Ohio, where my father, Marshall, was as an engineer specializing in refrigeration and my mother, Alice, (you'll be reading about her soon) was a travel agent. In the summer of 1978 my father accepted a position with a Wauwatosa firm and we settled in Waukesha.

My two younger sisters and I went to elementary school in Waukesha. Although they continued through the Waukesha school system, I took a different path. During these years I had shown a passion (and a little skill) for ice hockey. In the 1980's the only local high school that played hockey was University School Milwaukee, in Whitefish Bay, and my parents made the financial commitment to send me there. The commute was so long that my parents bought me a car the minute I turned 16! I thought I was the luckiest kid with my 1976 Vega hatchback

After graduating from USM I headed to Northern Arizona University to continue my academic career and continue tending goal on their hockey team. Unfortunately after my first year there the refrigeration system broke down and the university decided not to fix it thereby dismantling the hockey team! I decided to head to Madison and the University of Wisconsin and was accepted as a 'walk-on' to the hockey team. I was fortunate enough to be with the team for the 1990 national championship. I spent seven (yes that's eight total years in college) years at Wisconsin getting my undergraduate degree in economics and a graduate degree in business. I also taught a few classes and continued to spend time with the hockey program as a graduate assistant.

In the summers I worked as a security guard on the Summerfest grounds as well as a hockey school instructor throughout the Midwest. Just after completing my graduate degree I spent one final summer 'working' at the Summerfest grounds. One evening while working a gate during Festa Italiana I was chatting with a group of young ladies who, before long, said I would be perfect for their cousin, Gina. Apparently they were right! We dated for two years before I proposed to her at Festa Italiana and we were married on August 31, 1996.

By the time we were married I had accepted a job in the home building products industry and had moved from Milwaukee to Chicago and then to Appleton. We finally settled in the small town of New London, only because it was the half way point between my office and the rehabilitation unit at which Gina worked. It only took 10 months or so for us to realize small town living was not for us. We missed our friends and family so much even though we were only two hours away. We moved back to Brookfield, bought our first home and started our family..... our first child, Jack, who is now nine years old, was on the way. While we were both elated and surprised by our second pregnancy we realized we needed a larger home. Just after we moved into our current home in Brookfield we had Francesca, who is now 6 years old. Both children are the highlight of our lives! They attend school at St. Mary's Visitation in Elm Grove (Gail Lauer is Jack's favorite teacher). The kids keep busy with music and karate classes (Francesca's favorite karate instructor is former Elmbrook Rotarian Jeff Quirk).

Currently I am very busy with my own businesses. I own and operate two building supply companies, Milwaukee Builders Supply (out of Menomonee Falls) and Rock River Building Supplies (out of Rockford, IL). I also own and operate a bar/volley ball center called Fat Daddy's located in the Walker's Point area. Gina decided to pick up some part time hours here and there as a speech pathologist at St. Francis hospital now that both kids are in school full days. When I actually have some free time I enjoy playing sports and taking karate lessons with the kids.

My parents have been involved in Rotary for the past 20 years. They have instilled in me the importance of giving back for all the opportunities others gave to me. Thus, it was not a matter of if..... but rather when I was going to become a Rotarian. To be accepted by this special club where my mom has been for so many years has been more than I expected or could hope for. I just want to thank everyone for making this club a success and I look forward to many, many more years being involved with such a great group.

Ann Durbin

I was born in Milwaukee, WI in 1964 to Allan and Mary Sorensen. Ten and a half months later (yes, 10 1/2 months!), my brother, David came along, and we moved to Greendale where we grew up. My brother and I had a great childhood in Greendale in large part due to the fact that we had wonderful parents.

My mom was and still is a teacher. At that time in my life, she taught high school at James Madison, and my dad was a real estate broker. My dad ultimately went on to own his own new home construction company, and my mom, while teaching nights, obtained her real estate brokers license and worked with my dad for a number of years. After a successful career in real estate, my dad ultimately retired, and my mom went back to teaching full time at the Milwaukee Area Technical College (MATC). She became an Associate Dean of Students and is known as a pioneer in online teaching methods. After retiring from MATC, she currently teaches a number of online courses for the University of Phoenix each semester, as well as through MATC, and does a number of Wisconsin certification courses for technical college instructors. In addition, she is presently piloting a series of courses for older adults designed and facilitated by seniors for seniors.

My brother, Dave, and I grew up in Greendale, and we attended grade school as well as high school there. I loved school (We both did.) and was always a very good student. In addition to my studies, I was involved in a number of extra-curricular activities. I played the flute in the high school band, I was a Sea Sprite (water ballet), I was a Green Pepper, and I was an AFS exchange student to Spain. I graduated 4th in my class. After high school, I went on to college at the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee (UWM) where I obtained two degrees: a BBA in Business Administration in the area of Marketing, and a B. A. in Spanish. I also studied quite a bit of French and Portuguese. I loved college as well. In addition to school and a number of extracurricular activities, I worked as a Dental Assistant throughout college. So, I took a full time course load and worked 30 hours per week as a Dental Assistant, and in the summer, I worked full time. I really met a lot of wonderful people and learned a lot about dentistry. In 1987, I graduated Cum Laude from UWM. I would like to ultimately pursue an MBA in International Business-that was the original goal. Now, it's just a matter of trying to find the time.

After college, it was time to find a job, and so I started looking at a career in sales. The first job I happened to land was at a small long distance company called TelSave, which is no longer in business. I learned all about network services (voice and data lines for companies) and how to sell effectively in the year and a half I worked there. At that point, AT&T had divested, and telecommunications was booming. A new company, called Cable and Wireless moved into the Milwaukee marketplace, and I received a call from a recruiter. Ultimately, I made the move from TelSave to Cable and Wireless, and I have been in technology sales ever since...for the past 22 years. I have worked at a number of companies and have extensive sales and sales engineering experience in both phone systems (and related hardware) and network services. Currently, I'm an account executive for Attalus Communications, which is based in Research Park in Wauwatosa. At Attalus, we provide phone systems (both IP-enabled and traditional), IP Contact Center, network services, cabling, recording, and IT solutions to customers located across the US. We truly put our arms around our customers and try to provide them with total telecommunications/IT solutions to address all their needs with the highest level of customer care. I truly love my job...It allows me to wear a number of hats. I can be both technical and creative, and most importantly, I get to develop relationships with a number of great people/companies.

I also live in Wauwatosa with my husband, Sean, our son Jack, our dog, Wooly, and our two cats, Cookie and Sasha. A mutual friend introduced Sean and me seven years ago, and we'll be married five years in November. We wanted to have children, and we ultimately decided to adopt a baby. We brought our son, Jack, home from Guatemala one year ago this June 12th, and it was one of the best things we have ever done. Jack is 19 months old, and is the light of our lives. He is doing so well, and he really keeps us hopping.

Sean is a Chef at North Hills Country Club and really loves his job. Sean is originally from Columbus, OH, and yes, he's a Buckeye, which makes me a Buckeye by marriage! He actually went to OSU for Journalism. Sean's parents, sister, two brothers and their families live there. We have eight wonderful nieces and nephews ranging in age from 10 years to 16 months. (My brother now lives in New York and is a vice president for Master Card.)

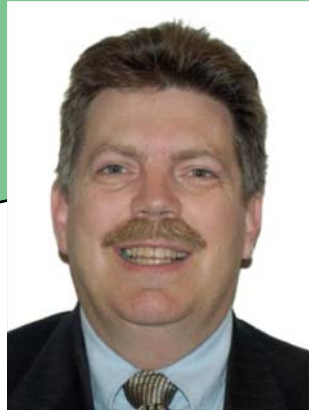

Sean and I work pretty opposite hours, which by design allows us to spend as much time as possible with our son instead of putting him into daycare. So, between two busy careers, a new baby, three pets, a house, and active involvement with our church, Sean and I are pretty busy, but we feel very blessed and wouldn't have it any other way.

I'm thankful that I've been given the opportunity to join the Elmbrook Rotary and to be a part of all the great work you do. I'm looking forward to meeting many new friends!

I was born at St Joe's, the "Baby Hospital," just like most everyone my age who lived in New Berlin. There was a dairy farm across the street, a sheep ranch two doors down, and corn and hay fields all around. Yes, this was New Berlin in the 60's — particularly the far west side.

It was fun growing up building forts and playing in the barns. One barn incident was particularly memorable. One barn was in very poor condition. We played in and around it quite often because it was never used. One day we were surprised to find a bull in the lower level. Being bright kids, we proceeded to tease the penned up bull until it kicked the door behind it. Oh!, !##: #%*!, the door opened and out ran the bull. We ran like mad for home and had to tell our mothers that the bull standing in the back yard was our fault. Lesson learned.

I attended eight years at Holy Apostles Catholic School, and was an alter boy, too (would you believe it?). High School was New Berlin, now called New Berlin West. I had a lot of fun in high school and met some people who are still friends today. I was on the swim team for four years — not the team star, but I did swim varsity for two years and received my letter. Band was another fun school activity. I played the trumpet from seventh grade through high school. My core group also shot trap for three seasons and hunted together. Cars were always the thing, too. There are a few cars that I wish I had not sold, but none more so than the '69 GTO with a Judge motor. Fun car! Sometimes too fun! I graduated from high school in 3 1/2 years and went directly to UW Whitewater.

Childhood Family: My mother, 84 in July, is in a facility for her Alzheimer's. She was always a good hearted person. She had to work while I was growing up to help pay the bills, then worked full time when my dad died. My mother was a gifted seamstress. She made all of our cloths (except underwear, socks, etc) At times she would sketch her own designs and then make them. My Grandma was like a mother to me. She lived with us almost all of my childhood. My Father was an iron worker who welded and hung structural steel. He was involved in building the First Wisconsin building and the Oak Creek power plant. He was an avid hunter and loved to fish. He died of pancreatic cancer shortly after I turned 16.

I have one sister, seven years older, and a brother, eight years older. I like to say they saved the best 'til last!

I met Suzi the same month I started college. I came home to work, like I did every week-end, and went roller skating with the guys from high school. For a couples' only skate I asked Suzi to skate and she said "yes" - a decision she has probably regretted ever since. Oh, did I mention she was celebrating her 16th birthday? Could she have asked for a better gift? (Don't answer that.!) Suzi and I dated for six years before getting married.

I graduate from Whitewater with a BBA in Marketing, a Sociology minor, and a Computer Science emphasis. By the way, nothing I learned about computers seems applicable today. What happened to all the punch card machines that we used to code our programs? Those were the days. NOT !

I had worked at Johnny Walker's during two years of high school and all four years of college, therefore I felt that retail was my calling. My first job out of college was as a merchandising manager for JC Penny's, Brookfield Square. A year later I sold copiers for six months — not my calling either. The next gig was for Burroughs Corporation. I started out selling forms and small equipment to financial institutions in the SE quarter of Wisconsin. In two years a new product concept was floated — the pre-encoding of deposit items by volume bank depositors. It took a while to get all of the local processing banks on board, but once that happened it was a roller coaster ride. Four years later my division was bought by Standard Register. Things changed and I started looking. I told all the head hunters that I would only sell products that were technical, ones where I could add true value to the equation. One person brought a commercial property and casualty opportunity to the table — insurance. INSURANCE? No way that could work. That was in 1987 — Liberty Mutual. Four years later I moved to the independent agent side of the business and have been there ever since — 20 years doing commercial insurance; workers comp, business liability, business property, business vehicles, etc. As businesses change so do their risks. I really like the risk management aspects. I also find it very rewarding to take an account with 'issues' and help them fix their risk/insurance woes.

Family: Suzi and I were married in 1982. We are skating together in our hearts. She is great, even though I want to strangle her at times. ☺ Our daughter, Kelsey, is 19 and a sophomore at Marquette. Our son, Colton, is a junior at Brookfield Central HS. Suzi and I are very proud of our children. They have been able to achieve some significant things. We are equally pleased that in their occasional failures they have been able to learn.

SCUBA diving has been a little more than a minor hobby. I was first certified in 1980 and have been diving regularly since then. Well over 1300 of my dives were on Great Lakes ship wrecks. Obviously, I like these! There have also been several hundred pretty fish (salt water) dives. These are fun, but don't hold the same appeal as the wrecks. I have shot a fair amount of underwater 35mm slides, however, over the last 12 years I have shot more digital video. Suzi is certified, but no longer dives. Both kids have been certified since each has been 13. They, too, enjoy the wrecks, but like the pretty fish, as well.

Golf, also, is a fun pastime for me. I could be better at it, but I'm really in it for the camaraderie.

I have been in Rotary since 1992, and have been able to interact with some great people. Rotary has been a wonderful way to positively affect others. It has also been a very good and tangible way to teach my children to share our blessings.
